

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An AC Plasma display panel. In one embodiment of the invention, a plurality of ribs are disposed on a rear substrate forming non-equilateral hexagonal discharge spaces in a delta configuration. A front substrate is disposed opposite the rear substrate. A plurality of bus electrodes substantially extend in a first direction, and each contains a plurality of extending electrodes protruding into corresponding non-equilateral hexagonal discharge spaces.